

North Kent Embroiderers' Guild

Our meeting today was different for several reasons. It was the first meeting to take place in our new venue based in Asda at Gravesend. Our members managed to find it without trouble and many commented on what a suitable room it was for our needs. Thank you Asda!

Our speaker was Elitta Fell who had visited the branch before to talk to us about 'Silk and Silk Painting'. This time she was running a practical session entitled 'Hands on Have a go Silk Painting'. We thoroughly enjoyed our chance to use the brushes and colours to produce a lovely sample for use on a greetings card. The room was very quiet as we concentrated on the task in hand, closely guided by Elitta.

Although this activity didn't involve the use of embroidery, the opportunity to work with such vibrant colours and pure silk fabric was widely appreciated.

If you are interested in joining us to hear from other inspiring speakers and tutors or you would just like to stitch with us, you are welcome to come to our meetings as a visitor to start with to see for yourself. We meet on the third Saturday of every month except August and December (this year only). There are more details on the 'Meetings' page of our website. www.northkentembroiderers.co.uk

Happy stitching, Karen
